TEACHERS CONVENTION AT PINCHER CREEK

Pincher Creek, Oct. 29. The teachers of southwest Alberta held their annual convention at Pincher Creek on Thursday and Friday, October 27 and 29. The sessions were well attended, the program excellent and the convention was adjudged by all most beneficial and successful.

At the morning session on Thursday, Mayor Dobbie representing town and Mr. Henderson representing the school board, extended a hearty welcome to the visiting teachers. The president, H. W. Brownlee, of Claresholm responded on behalf of the teachers, and in his opening address asked for sincerity and frankness in all discussions, and for the hearty co-operation of all to make the convention a success.

D. T. Brennan of Pincher City gave an excellent paper on the value and importance of complete and thorough physical education in the schools, advocating a prescribed course in such on our curricula. Considerable discussion was elicited, showing that the teachers are very much alive to the importance of physical training. An address of exceptional merit on the subject of "Drawing and Color Work in public Schools" was ably presented by Mr. A. E. Torrie of Macleod. Mr. Torrie was assisted in the demonstration of methods, etc., by members of the staff of Macleod school.

Miss McKerral of Fishburn read a very excellent paper on "Methods in Teaching Geography." Miss McKerral's remarks were of a very practical nature, and were greatly appreciated.

At the afternoon session Miss Bull of Pincher Creek demonstrated methods in number work in primary grades by teaching a class in this subject. Miss Bull is an expert in this particular line, and her work was very well received. Miss Oxley, Chipman Creek, spoke on muscular movement in writing. One of the features of the whole program was the address by Dr. A. C. Johnston of Lundbreck on "What the public Expects of the School." Dr. Johnston is an enthusiast, and his remarks, interspersed with considerable humor, conveyed a message of no doubtful meaning. He contended that the public expects the impossible of the school, impossible, not because of the fault of the teacher, but rather because of the impossible conditions in which he works. These conditions can and must be remedied by legislation, and by an educated public opinion.

The paper of H. W. Brownlee on "Canadian History" was a plea for the more sincere, thorough and intelligent teaching of a subject so fraught with importance to the production of the new citizenship in Western Canada, and the assimilation into such of the foreign element.

In the evening Dr. Tory, principal of the provincial university, addressed a large audience on "The Forward Movement in Education." Dr. Tory was in exceptionally fine form and spoke in a direct and convincing manner.

An excellent lesson in drawing was taught by Sister Bonheur of the Kermaria Con-

Coleman's Civic Celebration

Natal Day Was a Great Success. Opera House Crowded.

Coleman's first civic celebration passed off successfully. The day broke with ideal weather and the parade and football match was witnessed by hundreds.

At two o'clock two hundred school children, headed by the Coleman band, paraded up First and Second street, and then to Flumerfelt park.

In the procession were Mayor Cameron, Councillor James, Trustees Graham and Holmes.

As soon as the children reached Flumerfelt park, each one was handed a beautiful souvenir booklet of Coleman.

At eight o'clock a large assemblage of Coleman's citizens and visitors from the neighboring towns gathered in the Opera House. Mayor Cameron took the chair and then called upon the speakers to address the assemblage. Among those who spoke were Messrs. Mayor Cameron, Justice Gresham of Frank, Rev. T. M. Murray and W. L. Ouimette.

During the evening W. Haysom, Mrs. McCauley and R. R. Webb sang appropriate solos. Mrs. McCauley and R. R. Webb also sang a duet.

At the conclusion of the program, dancing commenced. During the evening refreshments were served. The large number present expressed themselves as greatly pleased with Coleman's first civic reception.

Interesting Items of Coleman & Vicinity

J. Scott is now able to attend to his duties again.

Alex McLean is on a visit to Dryville.

H. Gate is still keeping his heart up.

Messrs. Turnbull and Orr, strolled over Saskatoon mountains Monday.

The gold watch belonging to J. D. S. Barrett, associate editor of the Enterprise, was found on Tuesday. The watch is a valuable one, containing as it does several photos of prominent ladies in the Pass. The MINER is pleased to note the news of its recovery.

Sunday next being the first Sunday in the month, there will be service and celebration of the Holy Communion at 11 a.m. Sunday school 3 p.m. Evening service 7 p.m.

There will be a congregational meeting of the members of St. Alban's church, in the church on Tuesday evening, November 8th, at 8 o'clock. Matters of importance to all the members are to be discussed and it is hoped that all will be present.

A meeting of the ladies of Coleman will be held at the home of Mrs. F. G. Graham, on Tuesday, November 8th, at 3 o'clock to consider giving assistance to the Firemen at their Annual Ball, to be held on Friday, November 25th. All the ladies of Coleman are requested to be present and thus show their practical interest in a good cause.

At the morning session on Friday, Dr. J. J. Gillespie of Pincher Creek spoke on medical inspection of schools, and Miss Doyle of Claresholm on "Busy Work in Primary Grades." Dr. Wright of Pincher Creek had a number of his cadets present. They were put through the rifle drill, and Dr. Wright told of the beneficial effects of cadet corps. All these speakers were heartily applauded.

At the business session the association decided to hold the next convention at Macleod, vice-president, Miss Doyle, Claresholm, secretary-treasurer, Mr. Huston, Coleman, executive committee, Miss Clark, Macleod; Mr. Stewart, Pincher Creek; Mr. Robinson, Lundbreck; Miss McKerral, Fishburn; H. W. Brownlee, Claresholm.

Mine inspector Powell was in town on Sunday.

C. Higgins of King's Gate B. C. paid Coleman a visit this week.

L. A. Manly is on a business visit in Vancouver B. C.

J. B. Harmer of Frank was in town on Wednesday.

A. I. Blais of Frank was in town this week.

Miss Cotter and W. A. Beech of Frank were in Coleman on Tuesday.

J. A. MacDonald of Carbondale is offering his store and business for sale.

Mrs. Jobbit, represented the Coleman teachers' at the convention held at Pincher Creek on Oct. 27.

Copies of the Celebration Souvenir can be obtained from Percy Willmott, secretary of the committee.

Dr. Shearer addressed a meeting of ladies on the "White Slave Traffic" on Monday afternoon, in the Institutional church.

A lumber jack was injured at the Carbondale saw mill, on Wednesday, a log striking his shoulder.

Thanksgiving services were held in the Institutional church. Dr. Shearer gave an address on "Things that should provoke National Thanksgiving. Dwelling on the vast material resources within the bounds of the Dominion. There was a fair attendance.

Rev. A. J. Langlois, of Blairmore, spent Monday morning, with Rev. T. M. Murray.

Rev. J. G. Shearer, D. D., left for Fernie, on Tuesday morning.

H. A. Parks, who has been in Stettler some time, is in town. "Doc" intends to take over the drug store of R. R. Webb.

Henry James wishes the MINER to state that the "liquor business could go to the dogs, was to be inferred from his statement, not "business interests."

To Whom it May Concern
Any parties owing bills in Pleasant Heights, West Mount Pleasant, Balmwood, Rosedale, Crescent Heights or any other Calgary lots, it would be to their advantage to communicate with J. Bauman & Co., 135 Eighth Ave. E., Calgary.

LICENSE COMMISSIONERS MEET

The provincial board of license commissioners met in Coleman on Wednesday at 10 a.m. There were present chief license inspector, W. A. Dayl, of Edmonton, Thos. McKercher, chairman of the board, D. C. Baynes, of Banff and Dr. Strong, of Edmonton. District license inspector Whittaker, of Pincher Creek, was also present.

The International Coal and Coke Company were represented by Mr. Carson, of Walsh, McCarthy & Carson of Calgary. W. Evans by Solicitor Ryan of Calgary, and the Coleman Liquor Co., by R. G. Munro. The Temperance and Moral Reform League were represented by Rev. T. M. Murray and Messrs. Davies and Holmes.

The board received the two applications of W. Evans and the Coleman Liquor Co. L. A. Manly, explained that he had withdrawn from the company and had no further interest in it.

The application of W. Evans was contested by Mr. Carson on the grounds that the title of his lot was invalid. Mr. Ryan sought to prove that Mr. Evans' title was without restrictions. The commissioners, however, ruled otherwise and refused to grant W. Evans application, as the title was in dispute. The commissioners recommended that a license be granted to the Coleman Liquor Company.

The delegation from the Moral Reform League addressed the commissioners in turn. As their protest had arrived in Edmonton too late, no action could be taken.

The Commissioners went thoroughly through the whole situation in Coleman. They considered all petitions and evidence and all objections. It is gratifying to know that the province has three impartial representatives. They undoubtedly carried out the business interests of the town. As long as the license department is in the hands of men of their calibre, the people of Alberta can feel sure that the best interests of the province are being conserved.

Coleman Defeat Bellevue

The semi-final game in the cup series was won by Coleman on Thanksgiving day. Over six hundred spectators witnessed the game and all saw a hotly contested match.

Bellevue won the toss and played with the wind. No goal was scored in the first half. The ball was almost always hovering near the Bellevue goal. In the second half, the locals, playing with the wind, scored a clean cut goal. No other score was made, thus placing Coleman in the lead in the semi-finals. The locals will play Cranbrook next week for the cup final. There is, no doubt, but that the local team will hold the cup for Coleman.

Fashion Notes
From Paris

HERE is a delightful, infinite variety of scarfs. Women have seized this little accessory and refuse to let it go. For daytime there is the black satin scarf, worn around the neck like a pallium. Colored scarfs are made of marquise, veiled with black mousseline de soie and lined with brilliant silk. Wide velvet ribbon also is used for scarfs, lined with satin and bordered with shibboleth.

Coarse Greek tulle is another fabric that is made into afternoon scarfs. This is transparent, and when used in two or three layers, the effect is iridescent and wonderful in color. Ingenuity is the star in the ascendency, and nothing that is beautiful is scorned by couturiers and by the coquette.

Old scarfs of duchesse lace such as were worn under the Imperial rule are much in vogue. Of course, the brilliant colors are demanded under the lights of the casino, and gold and silver tissue is in evidence. Last of this endless scarf story comes the feather box, with no curl, but with a richness of color and gloss of fronds that is irresistible.

Flowing draperies, if they can be adjusted at the back and arranged so that a long court train is the effect, are predicted for the early winter. The high line of the belt adds to the regal splendor of the sweeping train. No one can deny the graceful beauty of this style for evening.

Raven's wing blue is wonderful when combined with layers of green, blue and black tulle. This was seen at the Trouville races. Bands of black silk fringe were placed on the skirt in three rows, while a short Louis jacket of silk gave an excellent background for silk embroidery and blue opaque beads.

Tinted lace is the first resort of modistes who keep dyers busy exactly matching the supple materials that they trim. Supple is the keynote of the season. The changing lines are emphasized by the majority of designers.

Dalry is exploiting the high crown that reminds one of the Tyrol. It is quite pointed and is very decorative when made of folds of silk wrapped around the foundation and ending in a huge bow at one side. Even the fur toques are of this type, the wide turned-up brims over-towered by pointed crowns.

The lace frill for evening is established. Sometimes it is a facing for the huge hat, and as an evolution the entire theater cap of lace is worn. This remains on the head during the play; for you must remember that our little prefect of police has prohibited the eclipsing of an entire performance by the chapeau of the portly woman on the front row.

Lewis has shown some fall models of hats that are broad and low. Their crowns are oval and their brims are edged with fur. Where are we to get the fur for the coming fashions, I wonder?

Marabou is used for many evening dresses, giving the furry effect, but lacking any unpleasant weight. It is most attractive when edged beaded tulle, the two combinations being the very latest for evening. ELOISE.

New Umbrella Handles

HAND-CARVED handles of Japanese design are shown, three and four sided sticks, with plain, round or mushroom tops.

Irregular loops through which the hand may pass are seen in one-sided ovals, irregular triangles, inverted stirrups and an effect like a long oval knothole in a broader middle portion of the handle.

Then there are etched or acid-carved handles, resembling horn-eaten wood, in half-crook and T shapes.

Mushroom handles may be had in wood, ivory, horn, metal and in the new beaded styles. Wooden mushroom handles are sometimes carved with animal heads.

Silver-trimmed mission handles are also seen, chiefly in dull or French gray silver.

Polished and stained wood, round, square or triangular, with a simple design outlined in fine inlaid silver, stripes, the wood inside the silver outline is stained darker than the rest.

For men come plain and silver-trimmed pimento handles, hand-carved Japanese, and etched or acid-carved, mostly in the staple opera shape.

AFTERNOON DRESSES OF VOILE

Jean M. H. Paris

HOW are your afternoon dresses? Have you decided just how, when and of what fabrics to make them? Listen to our Paris oracle, who speaks decisively and with a salutary suggestion for American women. These three sketches stand in striking line, and any practical woman ought to see and be conquered by their undeniable chic combinations of the best styles.

Voile is reigning undisputed in the realm of afternoon dresses, while silk cambrée comes next in favor. Any material must be supple, and the range of the season's colors and trimmings is so wide that there is promise to every woman who would be in step with the modes.

Black velvet is largely used as trimmings on voile gowns. Hems, vests, pipings or ruffles do much to give the distinctive touch of contrast.

Old blue silk voile is shown in a charming, easy style in the first model. The dress is cut in a chemise of colored lace with introductions of dark blue and old rose serving to give a transparency at the neck. This lace in broad bands is used on the bodice in crossed surplice lines, which a piping of black velvet emphasizes.

The sleeves are edged with lace and a ruffle and two bands of insertion are used in the skirt, while black velvet about three inches in width edges it.

Notice the high waist line on each of these three models, please! The central figure is in the new shade of best root. Crossed folds of the voile are placed over a lace and velvet vest. A black velvet girdle defines the waist line in back. The full skirt has broad folds of material placed at the bottom, giving an effect of deep, junks and the deep hem.

Dark-blue voile over cream satin, one of the newest effects, is shown in the last model. A band of embroidered net is used as straps on each side of the pointed chemise, while over each side are turned back supple revers of voile, edged with embroidery.

Wide tucks are effectively used on the straight, scant skirt, the fullness of which is gathered under a black velvet belt.

Five informal luncheon or tea or for simple little house gowns these are representative of the most advanced styles offered by Parisian modistes.

THE END OF THE POPULAR SCARF

IT ISN'T really the end of the scarf's popularity, for after being successfully launched on the wave of fashion this accessory is promised an extended vogue. It can be of satin, mousseline or chiffon. Its linings can be of materials that contrast with the upper surface in both color and texture.

For cool days these scarves are convenient to wrap around the throat and at the same time add a touch of color to any simple costume. But the end of the scarf is the burden of this song, by glancing over the group you will see that there are various ways in which to edge the form. The fishtail shape is new and easily cut. A bias fold of satin is used and a line of cat-stitching holds the top edge of the hem on the body of the scarf. If the material be very sheer, you can shir it in four or five rows of stitching, drawing the lower rows more tightly than the others and ending the last with a silk tassel. The tablike end of the next scarf is created to a border of contrasting lighter silk upon which soutache braid is applied. A silk cord outlines the entire edge and ends at the point with a tassel made of the braid. Shiffring at the extreme edge of the next scarf ends in the favorite tassel, while six inches above a double row of shiffring is used.

Perhaps the flower form is more to your liking? It is made of five petals held in the center by a colored jeweled button. This is particularly effective when of satin, weighting down a chiffon or supple silk end. Fringe, of course, is used in many scarves. The long silken kind is bought and sewed on the end of a satin scarf below fine tuck shiffring. Plain is the next sketch, the point folded in box pleats and held place by distiching on the surface.

Coleman, Friday November 5, 1910

A Step in Advance

The granting of a wholesale license to Coleman is a direct and positive step in advance of the conditions which have prevailed in Coleman up to the present. The MINER advocated this principle, as the first step in supervising the wholesale dispensing of liquor. Until the laws of the province are changed, no moral reformer can stand up and dictate to laws abiding citizens, what they shall or shall not do.

It does seem preposterous when neighboring villages were allowed to trek beer into an incorporated town which had not a wholesale license. The commissioners recognised Coleman's rights. They based their decision on the laws of the provinces. Who is there with sufficient audacity, to ask them to wink at the laws? The laws are made for us all.

In seeking to bring about moral reform, it is necessary that the foundation of reform be well established. The liquor manufacturers of should be cut off, if we really and sincerely wish reform. And who permits the manufacturer to continue manufacturing liquor? It is the people of Canada.

Every man, woman and child in the country is indirectly responsible for the sale and manufacture of liquor. Strike at the laws of the country if you wish to succeed.

Council Proceedings.

The adjourned meeting of the town council met on Wednesday at 8 o'clock in the council chamber. All members were present.

Mr. McCauley was present in regard to the levels and estimate made of Third and Fourth streets. It was moved and seconded by Councillors Clark and James that the plans be received and left over for further consideration. Carried.

Mayor Cameron brought up the matter of adaption from the Moral Reform League being present at the previous meeting of council. He stated that the council had no preconceived ideas on their subject. Also that the council had extended every courtesy to them. He was sorry to report that two of their number had called him from an important meeting and had wrongly accused him of discourtesy and of rushing the work of council through. This was false and showed lack of judgment on their part.

Councillor Clark was sorry that the Mayor had been insulted. He thought the guilty parties should be made to apologise.

The communication from the Attorney-General re advice on the stopping of delivering liquor from outside wholesale houses stated that nothing could be done in the matter. As there was now no possibility of further peddling the matter was dropped.

A communication was received from the Football Club asking for a rebate, owing to Monday being a civic public holiday.

It was moved and seconded by Councillors Shone and Clark that the rebate be granted. Carried.

The question of the road to West Coleman came up. It was decided to bring pressure to bear on the premier for assistance, as he promised to give government aid.

It was moved by Councillors James and Morrison that the thanks of the council be tendered to Supt. Urew of the C. P. R. for his prompt and business like manner in handling the different questions between the railway and town. Carried.

It was moved by Councillors Morrison and Shone that the thanks of the council be tendered to the Board of Trade for the board's successful efforts in obtaining the right of way over C. P. R. property to West Coleman. Carried.

Councillor Holmes reported progress on the drafting of by-laws. Time was extended to the above committee.

A petition was presented to the council by F. G. Graham and thirteen others, asking that H. Gate be appointed chief constable.

It was moved and seconded by Councillors Shone and Clark that an electric light be placed in front of the fire hall. Carried.

The watch committee brought in their report re the appointment of a town constable. The committee recommended J. Sargent, clerk of the police court, Lethbridge. The appointment was then discussed.

It was moved and seconded by Councillors Shone and Clark that J. Sargent be appointed chief constable, providing satisfactory references are given.

Councillor Morrison moved an amendment that H. Gate be also balloted on. No seconder was found.

It was finally decided to refer the matter back to the watch committee.

It was moved and seconded by Councillors Shone and Clark that the salary of the chief of police should begin at $1100 per year, and increase $50.00 per year until a maximum of $1200, is reached. Carried.

The fire committee reported fully they recommended that a salary of $175 a year be paid the fire chief and that the pay of the firemen remain as it is for the present. The report was adopted.

It was decided in future to debar any unauthorised person from entering the apartments of the fire hall.

It was moved by Councillors James and Morrison that the Board of Trade report further on the question of more electric lights for the streets. Carried.

It was moved and seconded by Councillors MacDonald and Clark that the following accounts be paid. Carried.

Numbers of rigs packed with football enthusiasts passed through here on Monday from Bellevue, Hillcrest and Passburg on their way to Coleman.

While S. Boda was in Macleod awaiting his trial for having stolen goods in his possession his house in New York town, Frank, was completely burned to the ground, the fire being away from the river and hydrant that the fire brigade were choked. He was brought up to Blairmore to stand trial before J. W. Gresham and was acquitted.

Many school children suffer from constipation, which is often the cause of seeming stupidity at lessons. Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets are an ideal medicine to give a child, for they are mild and gentle in their effects, and will cure even chronic constipation. Sold by All Dealers.

The Man With A Millstone
About His Neck

The millstone is a jack of special training. It holds one man down to hard work and small wages while others, properly trained, go ahead. But every man and woman who is laboring under such a burden can easily rise to a better position and increased earnings and can find out how for the asking.

To find out how, simply write the I. C. S., stating the position you wish to gain. In return, an illustration with 17 years of successful experience in training thousands of others for advancement will tell you how it can fit YOU for a better-paying position. No risk to run. No money to buy. Isn't such a chance for advancement worth a try?
